Dear Mr Azzam,

Thank you for your letter of June 23 about the case of Mr Abdelmoumem Diouri. I shall write to the French Ambassador asking for his observations on the points you raise.

May I in turn ask you to consider two very serious cases of gross and persistent vioations of the human rights of Moslem peoples? I refer to the approaching extermination of the Shi'ite people of southern Iraq by Saddam Hussein, and the atrocities being committed by the Indian forces of occupation against the people of Kashmir. I enclose some material on these cases, and would be greatly obliged for any action the Islamic Council may be able to take.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

Avebury
